Nanomaterials for Magnetic and Optical Hyperthermia Applications Raluca Maria Fratila, Jesús Martínez De La Fuente, 2018-11-30 Nanomaterials for Magnetic and Optical Hyperthermia Applications focuses on the design, fabrication and characterization of nanomaterials (magnetic, gold and hybrid magnetic-gold nanoparticles) for in vitro and in vivo hyperthermia applications, both as standalone and adjuvant therapy in combination with chemotherapy. Experimental Relations of Gold (and Other Metals) to Light Michael Faraday,1857

Moon-face and Other Stories Jack London,1906 JACK LONDON (1876-1916), American novelist, born in San Francisco, the son of an itinerant astrologer and a spiritualist mother. He grew up in poverty, scratching a living in various legal and illegal ways -robbing the oyster beds, working in a canning factory and a jute mill, serving aged 17 as a common sailor, and taking part in the Klondike gold rush of 1897. This various experience provided the material for his works, and made him a socialist. The son of the Wolf (1900), the first of his collections of tales, is based upon life in the Far North, as is the book that brought him recognition, The Call of the Wild (1903), which tells the story of the dog Buck, who, after his master's death, is lured back to the primitive world to lead a wolf pack. Many other tales of struggle, travel, and adventure followed, including The Sea-Wolf (1904), White Fang (1906), South Sea Tales (1911), and Jerry of the South Seas (1917). One of London's most interesting novels is the semi-autobiographical Martin Eden (1909). He also wrote socialist treatises, autobiographical essays, and a good deal of journalism.

Study Lists, Chronological Tables, and Maps to Accompany An Introduction to English Literature Henry Spackman Pancoast,1908

The Extractive Metallurgy of Gold John C. Yannopoulos,2012-12-06 The history of gold begins in antiquity. Bits of gold were found in Spanish caves that were used by Paleolithic people around 40,000 B.C. Gold is the child of Zeus, wrote the Greek poet Pindar. The Romans called the yellow metal aurum (shining dawn). Gold is the first element and first metal mentioned in the Bible, where it appears in more than 400 references. This book provides the most thorough and up-to-date information available on the extraction of gold from its ores, starting with the mineralogy of gold ores and ending with details of refining. Each chapter concludes with a list of references including full publication information for all works cited. Sources preceded by an asterisk (*) are especially recommended for more in-depth study. Nine appendices, helpful to both students and operators, complement the text. I have made every attempt to keep abreast of recent technical literature on the extraction of gold. Original publications through the spring of 1989 have been reviewed and cited where appropriate. This book is intended as a reference for operators, managers, and designers of gold mills and for professional prospectors. It is also designed as a textbook for extractive metallurgy courses. I am indebted to the Library of Engineering Societies in New York, which was the main source of the references in the book. The assistance of my son, Panos, in typing the manuscript is gratefully acknowledged.

I Murdered Your Mother, I Think? Robert Beckstedt, 2018-11-30 Maria the nurse and nanny - invoking Haitian Voodoo to protect those she loves from her damaged, violent sister Andrea. And Michael - the wealthy man between them, fighting desperately to save his baby son and escape with the sister he truly loves. This exhilarating saga of love and revenge sweeps us from Hispaniola in 1916, where the sisters' family originated in poverty and slavery, to the lurking drug culture of Balboa, Panama, and finally, to the United States. The ripples of the sisters' family history spread insidiously and threaten all that Michael has built. Will the Voodoo that was meant to protect save them? Or will it finally bring disaster upon Michael, Maria, and everything they love?

Women in the Sun, Linen in the Wind María Claudia Otsubo, 2018-10-30 These fifteen short stories dive deeply into reality looking to pull out new senses. They have the ability to show - especially what cannot be told. Tales of the feminine world, the natural world and of freedom (or the lack of it) open up the blinds to let us see beyond everyday's acts and wordly rites; to let us see beyond words and gestures.

Many Kingdoms Elizabeth Garver Jordan, 1908 At the beginning of her breakdown the intervals between intelligent consciousness and insanity had been long. She was herself, or was able to keep herself fairly in hand, the greater part of the time, and chaos, when it came, lasted only for a few days or weeks. Recently this condition had been reversed. She had lost knowledge of time, but she felt that centuries must have passed since those last flying, blessed hours when she knew herself at least for what she was. She grasped now at her returning reason, with a desperate, shuddering little moan, which she quickly stifled.
